LEGISLATIVE NOTES

A LITTLE BIT OF EVERYTHING AT JEFFERSON CITY

VOTES FOR THE WOMEN

Limited Suffrage for Missouri Women Seems Certain—Other Activities at the Capital.

(By Means Ray).

Jefferson City, Mo., April 1.—Votes for women on presidential electors now seems assured in Missouri. The McKnight bill passed the senate by a vote of 21 to 12 and now goes to the house where its passage is assured, a like measure having already been adopted there.

The fight for this in the senate has been a warm one and was the subject of much debate. The fight for it was led by Senators McKnight and McClintic.

The League of Nations debates here has caused this topic to be discussed a great deal during the past week. Senator Selden P. Spencer came down and made a forty minutes talk before a joint meeting of the house and senate and instead of expressing an opinion other than that he favored the right kind of a League of Nations remained on the top rail of the fence during the entire time.

Representative Frank H. Farris has engrossed his bill in the house requiring all property to be assessed at its full value and that it be taxed 60 per cent of the value. An amendment was tacked onto the measure providing that bankers must furnish assessors with information concerning deposits in the banks and requiring persons to open their deposit boxes on request of the assessor.

Republicans in the house still maintain their hostile attitude to the submission of the question of a new constitution to the people of the state. The claim is made by them that they will pass the measure in the house provided the Democrats will redistrict the senatorial districts of the state. It is known that this cannot be done at this session.

An agreement has been reached on the soft drink bill and a tax of one and one-half cents a gallon will be collected.

The income tax has been increased from one-fourth of one per cent to one-half of one per cent. Incomes taxed under the measure are $2,000 for single men and $4,000 for married men. Senator Bowker, chairman of the ways and means committee, had the bill in charge.

Lieutenant Governor Wallace Crossley has finished the business of the fuel administration and closed the offices.

The Democratic state committee at a meeting here declared that a club to be known as the Missouri State Democratic Club will be formed in every voting precinct of the state. Vice-presidents for each legislative district are now being selected and a statewide meeting will be held in St. Louis some time the last of May. Chairman Cummins of the Democratic national committee will attend the meeting.

The senate has engrossed a measure requiring county recorders to record free the discharges of all sailors, soldiers and marines.

The corporation franchise tax will be increased from 75 cents on the $1,000 to $1.00. Senator Bowker has this bill in charge. It is a part of Governor Gardner's revenue program. It was engrossed without amendment.

The house has engrossed a bill amending the inheritance tax law which provides that no tax be levied against bequests to religious, educational and charitable organizations.

The eight-hour working day for women was killed in the house by the adoption of an amendment for a nine-hour day and was adopted by a vote of 66 to 26. The bill was then placed on the informa.

The bone dry bill endorsed by the Anti-Saloon League was up in the senate, but re-referred to committee. The committee sent it out without recommendation. It is probable that the bill will be redrawn and some of the more drastic features removed. The measure carries the search and seizure clause.

The house has engrossed a bill requiring girls under 15 to secure consent for marriage from the circuit or probate court in addition to that of their parents. The age of majority for women is increased from 18 to 21 years in another measure.

The use of country school houses for public meetings will be available in the event of a measure which provides that they "shall" instead of "may" be used for such purposes passes.

A new disqualification for voters will be written into the statutes of Missouri, if the bill engrossed in the senate without opposition is enacted. Young's measure amends section 5800 of the Revised Statutes, dealing with the qualification of voters by adding to the disqualifications carried in the section conscientious objectors, persons guilty of espionage under the laws of the United States, persons who have evaded military or naval service in any branch of the army or navy, by fraud, perjury or absenting himself, or may have aided or abetted any other person to evade military or naval service in the war between the United tSates and Germany, declared in 1917. Conviction in any court of any of the charges mentioned shall be conclusive evidence against any person, but other evidence may be admitted to substantiate the charge.

IN REAL FIGHTING

JAMES R. FISHER WRITES INTERESTING LETTER TO HOMEFOLKS

HE WAS AT THE MEUSE

Gives Graphic Description of the Fighting Around Metz—Wants to Wear His Chevrons.

In a letter to his brother, John Fisher, Pvt. James R. (Jerry) Fisher tells of the fighting just before the armistice was signed, with an esecially good account of the fighting on the Meuse and the reparations for taking Metz. His letter follows:

Chatillon Sur Seine, March 2, 1919.—Dear John: In a week I'll be back on my way to Germany, passing thru Nancy, Toul, Metz, Luxemburg City and Treves. Will get to see the old battle line before long. We stand a good chance of going thru Verdun. If I can get a pass when I get back to the outfit, I am going to Rome. Some are getting furloughs there. Intend to see all of this country I can before coming home. If I make it around and back to the States and break even, I will consider myself lucky, nicht wahr?

Plenty of wine, beer, and whiskey or cognac, and good looking women in this country, but I haven't bothered any of them. Reports say we leave here or Germany in June. In that case I'll be wearing two gold chevrons and entitled to a silver one, providing Congress don't prohibit the use of them. If it does we'll have the rottenest deal we have had. If they take ours they ought to take General Pershing's and other D. S. C.'s away. For my part, I don't give a rap, but if they do there will be a sore bunch of boys from the A. E. F.

The parties responsible will not draw any votes or anything else. There is quite a few over here and their influence will amount to something when they get back. Most of them have been thru Hell and they have got the guts for anything. Just plain guts is what ended this war and nothing else. The Deutsch didn't have 'em.

If the war would have lasted a week longer we would have captured Metz or surrounded it. It is the most strongly fortified city in Europe excepting Gibralter. We had over a quarter of a million Americans ready for the attack, to open up the morning of the 12th of November. Besides several divisions in reserve and some French divisions to be in the attack. The night of the 10th we had practically broken thru the German lines on the Meuse river. I was with the first to cross the river.

'Twas a real foggy nite. About nine o'clock we got orders to get ready and cross the river. The Boche suspected something right away and opened up with a barrage. We crossed the river in boats, losing a good many men and leaving one 37 mm gun on the river bank. With the other two we pushed on, shells falling everywhere. Gas smelled pretty strong. The first thing we encountered on the other side was a pile of about fifteen Americans wounded and killed. They had probably bunched up waiting to reform. Quite a sight. Could tell many more instances far worse but will not. After crossing a German patrol ran into us which we captured. It was so dark you could see about ten feet. Next machine gun bullets began to sweep the ground and 88's firing point blank. The machine guns were soon captured and the 88's put out of whack. By that time the Germans had begun to move their artillery back. We marched at an angle of 45 degrees all nite and up until about 8 o'clock the next day, trying to get thru. At 11 o'clock we had started to move on and take the next woods but a runner got thru and we had orders to sit tight. Had more prisoners than we knew what to do with. Omer P. Fisher had about 25. In an hour or two we were smoking German cigars and building bonfires.

For a week before I had missed the majority of our aeroplanes and the Boche were constantly shooting at us from aeroplanes. They were probably concentrated for the big attack on Metz. Germany only had four divisions for reserve at that time, they had sunk so low. All the German soldiers we ever talked to say they had seven million men under arms tho. There is no end to hills and mountains in Germany and all would be hard to take.

Well, kid, enough for that. Could write a book; am wearing out a good

SETATE SPEEDS UP

UPPER HOUSE PASSES 25 BILLS IN ONE HOUR

MANY SOLDIERS' BILLS

Also Some Important Good Roads Legislation—Four Constitutional Amendments Were Passed.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 31.—Legislation was speeded up in the senate late today when twenty-five bills and four constitutional amendments were passed by that body within an hour's time. No debate was permitted, and many of the measures were passed without a dissenting vote.

A number of bills affecting soldiers were passed. One was that which enables soldiers to secure homes under such provisions as the federal government may make, and carries with it a constitutional amendment providing for a revolving bond issue of $1,000,000 to carry the law into effect. Another was the bill creating a state employment agency for the benefit of discharged soldiers, sailors and marines, and appropriating $10,000 for such an agency. A third bill appropriates $25,000 for medals for those honorably discharged from the service, from Missouri, and another appropriates $25,000 for a monument for Missouri soldiers killed in action.

Reorganize National Guard.

Reorganization of the Missouri National Guard, along lines approved by the war department, is provided for in a bill which also increases the salary of the adjutant general from $2,000 to $3,500.

Important good roads legislation passed by the senate includes the McCullough-Morgan joint highway bill, changing the existing law in many respects, and the constitutional amendment proposed by Senator McClintic for the submission of a $6,000,000 road bond issue to the people at the next general election. Another road bill by Senator McClintic, assessing one-fourth of the cost of roads against land within one-half mile of the highway, was passed unanimously.

The constitutional amendment proposed by Senator Harris for the creation of the offices of two additional judges of the supreme court, and the creation of three divisions of that tribunal, was also passed by the senate.

The proposed constitutional amendment fixing salaries of members of the legislature at $1,000 a year was passed.

Many Other New Laws.

Other laws passed by the senate include:

Those authorizing railroads to carry free of charge gifts to asylums and charity institutions; requiring the registering of fictitious names by business concerns; authorizing water companies to sell water at wholesale rates to cities increasing salaries of court stenographers; requiring garage owners to keep a record of all transient cars left in their care; and that providing refundment of such proportion of their licenses as dramshop keepers may have due them from cities and counties when federal prohibtion becomes aopreYETAOIN ETAOIN ETAO comes operative.

Among the bills passed also was one making the wild crab apple blossom the Missouri state flower.

Arthur A. Brewer of Maryville, court reporter for the fourth judicial district, is one of those who will benefit by the bill providing increased compensation for court stenographers.

SCHOOL TAX CARRIES

INDICATED VOTERS ARE ALMOST UNANIMOUS FOR COLORED SCHOOL

BERT COOPER IN LEAD

Present Superintendent of Schools Has Big Majority Over His Opponent in Maryville.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon, 379 votes were cast at the four wards in Maryville and it is estimated that not more than twenty-five of these votes were against the colored school building levy. Bert Cooper for county superintendent of schools is also running away from his opponent, J. W. Pierce, as it was estimated he had a lead of over 300 votes here.

The first ward had 92 votes cast and only four of these were against the colored school levy. Three votes were cast against the regular levy with 89 votes for it. Bert Cooper had 87 votes to Pierce's 13.

In the second ward, 94 votes had been cast and it was said that they were only five votes against the school levy. Cooper was also running far in the lead of his opponent in this ward.

Eighty-six votes had been cast in the third ward and probably not over ten votes were against the school levy. Cooper had 75 votes to Pierce's 13.

In the fourth ward, the school levy is being nearly unanimously carried as it is said there were only three votes against it at 2 o'clock. Bert Cooper was far ahead of his opponent.

FIRE AT THE THORP HOME

Fire Department Extinguished the Blaze with Chemicals Before Much Damage Was Done.

Fire at noon today causer about fifty dollars damage to the home of J. H. Thorp at 116 S. Buchanan street. The fire department was called and the fire extinguished by the use of chemicals.

The fire started when Mrs. Thorp put some apparently charred paper on the back porch. Wind fanned the sparks and the lattice work of the porch caught fire, the fire then spreading to the roof. The blaze was discovered before much headway had been gained.

NEW WAR THREATENS

ALLIES PREPARE FOR ACTION ON RUSSO-HUNGARIAN BOLSHEVISTS

TROOPS INTO HUNGARY

British and Italian Forces Have Occupied Pressburg—A Threat for Germany, Too.

Paris, April 1.—Allied troops will be sent into Roumania at once to meet the threats of Russo-Hungarian Bolshevism, it is reported here. A previous dispatch said Allied troops had already arrived at Constanza, Roumania. The threat of a new war is causing great uneasiness in French socialist circles.

Berlin, April 1.—Allied troops that will begin a campaign against the Hungarian Bolsheviks have arrived at Constanza, Roumania, according to Bucharest advices quoting Roumanian newsappers. British and Italian troops have occupied Pressburg, thirty miles southeast of Vienna.

This indicates that the entente are preparing for military action against the Hungarian Bolsheviks on a big scale.

London, April 1.—The Evening News states that it has reliable information that in case the German delegates refuse to sign the peace treaty, General Foch will order the armies along the Rhine to advance and that such action will mean that peace will be dictated by the Allies from Berlin.

TO SPEAK HERE ON SUNDAY

James T. Nichols of Des Moines, a Spectator at the Great Peace Conference at First Christian Church.

James T. Nichols of Des Moines, Ia., a world traveler and a spectator at the great peace conference meeting at Versailles on February 14, will speak at the First Christian church in this city next Sunday morning.

Mr. Nichols has had many unusual experiences. On his trip across when he was present at the peace conference, Mr. Nichols left Des Moines on January 18, arrived in London on February 2, traveled through the strike section there, through miles of war devastated land in Belgium and France and has a knowledge of the country gained by actual observation and experience of living in these regions. He was one of the two hundred spectators at the peace conference and can fully describe this great meeting where twenty-seven nations were represented.

Mr. Nicholas will speak at Maitland on Tuesday night April 8, and at Skidmore on Thursday evening, April 10. Both addresses will be made under the auspices of the Christian church.

TWENTY BELIEVE DROWNED.

Bristol, Penn., April 1.—Between ten and twenty persons are believed to have been drowned at the launching of a cargo carrier ship at the yards near here. Four bodies have been recovered. The disaster occurred when a part of the platform known at "patrol walk" surrounding the shipways collapsed under the weight of hundreds of workmen.

MAKE CLAIMS PUBLIC

WILSON'S DEMAND FOR SPEED LETS DOWN THE BARS

FRANCE WANTS SECURITY

Demands Some Other Guarantee Than League of Nations—Will Appeal to World.

Pairs, April 1.—The intimation that President Wilson may make public the views of the United States delegation on the question of reparations unless an agreement is speedily reached, has broken down the bars and today it was rumored that Premier Clemenceau might appeal to world justice in behalf of the French claims. According to the supporters of the rPemier, the public would sustain him.

In French official circles it is pointed out that France is ready to make any reasonable sacrifice for the Allies with whom she has fought but she insists on having guarantees in addition to the League of Nations. In this connection the French statesmen feel that the best guarantee would be a changed mentality on the part of the Germans themselves but thus far there has been little evidence of this result. As an index from well founded reports reaching Paris Count Karolyi, former head of the Hungarian government before the Bolsheviks got control, and Dr. Hantzau, present German foreign minister, plotted the Hungarian revolution with the object of testing the Entente's strength. There is further evidence in the fact that General Ludendorff was given, recently, an ovation in Berlin. The German liberal newspapers openly charged the ovation to Ludendorff was carefully staged.

Paris, April 1.—President Wilson told representatives of the associated powers today that he would place no blame on either Lloyd George, Clemenceau or Orlando for peace conference delays, but would let results speak for themselves, it was understood this afternoon. This statement was made in connection with Wilson's request for greater speed in completing the peace pact.

FINANCIAL MISSIONS MEET.

Paris, April 1.—The first meeting of the German financial mission and the Allied mission was held today. The question of assets and liabilities was taken up in detail.

PEACE TERMS TO TURKEY.

Constantinople, April 1.—The Turkish government was informed by the Allies that peace terms wuold be communicated shortly. The Turkish government was urged to take measures to prevent outbreaks when the terms are made public.

HAS A "FLIVVER" AEROPLANE

Italian Aviator Will Manufacture Tiny Airplanes to Sell for $1,250.

New York, April 1.—Capt. Ugo D'Annunzio, Italian aviator and son of Gabrielle D'Annunzio, the poet, announced here yesterday that he had designed and begun the manufacture of "flivver" aeroplanes, so small as to be capable of landing on almost any country road and designed to sell for $1,250.

The planes, Caut. D'Annunzio said, will have a wing spread of less than twenty feet, and will be guaranteed to fly for 2½ hours at an average speed of fifty miles an hour, carrying a passenger weighing not more than 165 pounds.

Capt. D'Annunzio, who has been in charge in America of the construction of the Italian Caproni planes, for army use, said his first "flivver" probably would take the air at the Atlantic City aerial contests on May 1.

THE VALUE OF GOOD ROADS.

In an argument for good roads some wise man, whose name has been lost, made use of the following:

"Roads rule the world—not kings, nor congresses, nor courts, nor constables, not ships nor soldiers. The road is the only royal line in democracy, the only legislature that never changes, the only court that never sleeps, the only army that never quits, the first aid to the redemption of any nation, the exodus from stagnation in any society, the call from savagry in any tribe, the high priest of prosperity, after the order of Melchisedec, without beginnings of days or end of life. The road is the umpire in every war, and when the new map is made, it simply pushes on its great campaign of help, hope, brotherhood, efficiency and peace."—From 1918 Year Book, Missouri State Board of Agriculture.

What Really Mattered.

He was a very small boy. Paddy was his dog, and Paddy was nearer to his heart than anything on earth. When Paddy met swift and hideous death on the turnpike road the boy's mother trembled to break the news. But it had to be, and when he came home from school she told him simply:

"Paddy has been run over and killed."

He took it very quietly and there was nothing more said about it until five minutes after he had gone to bed there echoed through the house a shrill and sudden lamentation. His mother rushed upstairs with solicitude and pity.

"Nurse says," he sobbed, "that Paddy has been run over and killed."

"But, dear, I told you that at dinner, and you didn't seem to be troubled at all."

"No; but—but I didn't know you said Paddy, I—I thought you said daddy!"

MOHAWKS and Rocky Roads

There's a rocky road or a bumpy road, or a bad strip of roadway of some sort between you and your market. It's punishing your tires—putting terrific strain upon them.

Many tires which might give good service under ordinary conditions won't stand up long under their abuse.

The strain may not show on the roads. For those bumps and strains don't hurt the rubber. They pound away at the fabric sometimes breaking one or two plies of fabric underneath. The break may not show for weeks, but it is there. It spreads. Other plies give away. Suddenly you have a blow-out and you wonder why. Mohawk tires don't give away even under the most severe strain. Most sizes have one more ply to fabric than other makers think it necessary to use. And this extra ply makes all the difference in the world in the strength of the tire.

Of course, Mohawks would give good mileage without this extra ply if they were always used on smooth roads and pavements.

But the Mohawk Company believes that Mohawk users don't care to pick and choose their roads. They want to go where they want, when they want to.

Because of this we haven't skimped on a single feature. We pay more money for our rubber and fabric than most makers so that we can secure the best.

We hire the most experienced workmen we can find and give them plenty of time to put the best they know into every tire.

There is nothing mysterious or secret about such methods. Just a reasonable logical policy of building honest tires so that every tire produced will give the buyer a good big value in mileage.

Isn't that the sort of a tire that appeals to you?

RED CROSS NOTES

The Red Cross clothing campaign in Maryville and Polk township will continue through this week, with hopes of getting the quota of 1000 pounds. Bring your clothing to the Red Cross rooms on West Third street or call and some one will call for them.

The Boy Scouts of Maryville were very kind and assisted Saturday in gathering up the clothing. If any one has a car to help get this clothing together, we will be very thankful for the use of it.

To Care For the Far East.

Nine hospitals with a total staff of fifty Red Cross nurses are being organized in northern Serbia by the American Red Cross Mission to the Balkans. In addition to this the Mission is sending thirteen nurses to Montenegro, while another unit of ten nurses is being organized for Greece. In all the activities there will be steps taken to train native women as nurses.

Send Rubber Clothes.

In previous campaigns for the collection of clothing, no rubber clothing was allowed to be sent. There is no longer the danger of this falling into the hands of the enemy, so in the present collection be sure to send the rubber blankets and the raincoats that you no longer need.

Ship all clothing collected in Campaign by FREIGHT only, charges collect, to American Red Cross, Baltic Terminal, New York Dock Company, Brooklyn, New York.

DO NOT SHIP BY EXPRESS.

DO NOT SHIP TO ST. LOUIS.

A Souvenir of Surgical Dressings.

The Bureau of Production has on hand a number of illustrated pamphlets on surgical dressings. This pamphlet gives not only instructions in regard to the making of surgical dressings, but has in it much information in regard to the Red Cross and its various activities. The pamphlet is most attractively printed and is profusely illustrated. Every woman who has been interested in the making or surgical dressings will find this pamphlet an interesting souvenir of her war service. They can be obtained by writing to the Bureau of Production.

Red Cross Work That Still Goes On.

I was an experiment. I was the first "lay" woman, so to speak—that is, the first woman other than a nurse of a nurse's aid—sent by the Red Cross into a United States base hospital in France. It was Base Hospital 101 at St. Nazaire.

What I was to do when I got there no one, least of all myself, had any idea. It was evident there was a great deal which might be done to make the boys happier, and more contented. What is was and how to do it was my business to find out, and no one ever had a more interesting job. If I could not find out it was understood I was to get 'out. Before I had been there two months, the Red Cross sent me an assistant. Then I kenw I was a successful experiment. Soon after this they gave us a title. We became Red Cross "searchers."

For the first few days after I arrived at St. Nazaire I went around the hospital with the Chaplain. He took me from ward to ward, telling the boys what I had come for, and letting me give them their papers and magazines, so that I might get in touch with them. That took the strangeness off a little; but even so, the first morning I went around alone was something of an ordeal. The boys had not decided whether they wanted me. They received me in silence, and followed me about curiously with their eyes. Within a week they were greeting me with shouts "Here she comes! Here she is!" the minute I appeared at the door. The Red Cross had scored again.

The work grew of itself without much planning on my part. I was there to do whatever the boys wanted. And if I didn't know what it was, they did, and told me. Of course, after a while I began to learn. The request of one boy taught me the needs of many. For instance, one day I found a boy sitting on the edge of his bed, jumping up and down like an excited child.

"What are you trying to do?" I asked. "Get some exercice," he answered. "I am tired of sitting still. If I only had a cane I could get out of this and walk, but thre is only one pair of crutches in the ward."

When said I would get him a cane, there was a perfect chorus of: "Get me one too." After that we always had them on hand and to lend; sometimes we had as many as 150 out at a time. The boys were usually able to bring them back before they left. It was fine to see them come into our office with them—they looked so proud and happy. "Here's my cane," each would say. "I don't need it any more," and then would march off with a broad grin.

The wants they developed were legion. They reminded me of a passage in Henry V.

Upon the King—let us our lives, our souls,
Our debts, our careful wives,
Our children and our sins, lay on the King!—the Red Cross being the King.

WOMAN SAVED MUCH SUFFERING

By taking Friend's Advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

West Plains, Mo.—"I was all run down in health, had indigestion and terrible cramps every month so I was unable to do anything. I had tried every doctor in West Plains, also every remedy I could think of, without relief. One day when I was suffering greatly a friend was at my house and said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' So I did, and through it, I found relief from my suffering and I really believe it saved my life. It does not seem as though I can say enough in praise of this wonderful medicine for the health it has brought me."—Miss CORA LEE HALL, West Plains, Mo.

Perhaps it may seem an extravagant statement to say that this great remedy saved a life; but women like Mrs. Hall, to whom it has brought health, appreciate the danger and suffering they have escaped too well to doubt it! All who suffer should try it. Why risk life and health without it?

NOW FOR A CLEAN-UP WEEK

State Insurance Department Urges Every Resident to Devote Time Necessary to Cleaning up Premise

Alfred L. Harty, superintendent of the insurance department of the State of Missouri, has requested that the week of April 7 to 12 be designated as clean-up week in the state. In his letter to the city authorities, he writes:

Over ten million dollars worth of Missouri property was destroyed by fire during the past year. When the cost of maintaining fire departments and other fire fighting equipment is added to this sum the total cost to the people of Missouri on account of fire was well over twelve million dollars or over one million dollars per month.

Now that the war is over we should not slacken our efforts for the conservation of resources. We should rather use every energy toward the elimination of all waste that conditions may speedily reach a normal basis.

A considerable portion of this appalling fire loss is directly chargeable to conditions that could and should be remedied.

Health and beauty of surroundings as well as safety from fire demand that at this time of the year the winter's accumulation of waste, rubbish and dirt be cleaned up and removed from all premises.

Rubbish heaps are notorious fire breeders. Fires start in them and are fed by them. Old packing cases, papers, paper boxes, sweepings and other refuse in basements and attics frequently are the cause of fire gaining immediate headway resulting in destruction of property and danger to life. Merchants often endanger valuable stocks of merchandise and buildings by permitting rubbish to accumulate in base ments and back yards.

Nothing speaks so well for a community as clean, well kept homes, clean streets, alleys, yards and lots, while the oppositie conditions give a place a delapidated appearance and are a sad reflection on the inhabitants.

In order to bring about a concerted effort all over the state for fire prevention, I recommend that the week of April 7 to April 12 be designated as clean-up week in the State of Missouri and urge that every resident of Missouri, whether he be a private citizen or public official, devote whatever time that is necessary to the work of cleaning up streets, alleys, back yards, yards about farm houses and barns, basements and attics of all buildings, public or private, and removing there from every possible cause of fire.

83, BUT TAKES 900 MILE HIKE

J. A. Z. Turner Also Walks Twenty Miles a Day Over Chicago Streets Selling Newspapers.

Chicago, Mar. 29.—James Alexander Zane Turner, just eighty-three, who hikes twenty miles a day over Chicago streets delivering periodicals, thinks nothing of a little jaunt like 900 miles from North Carolina to Chicago during vacation. In fact, its nothing more than "a right smart airing," according to Turner.

Turner's step today at eighty-three has more "pep" and go in it than the average youth of twenty-one displays on his walk to and from the street cars.

"Oh, yes," said Turner, "I do manag to get a little exercise every day. I make five etrips a day in the 'loop district,' covering perhaps twenty miles—but I like the long hikes the best."

"What do you mean by long walks?" queried the reporter, puffing after climbing two flights of stairs to interview Turner.

"Oh, like that little airing last summer from North Carolina. I may take another this summer, as that gold mine I played with a bit in North Carolina has a surprise in her and I am going to dig it out. You watch and see if I don't."

Freigther Fired First Shot.

The credit for firing the first shot of the war betwenn the United States and Germany is given to the freight steamer U. S. S. Mongolia of the American line, when April 19, 1917, it encountered a German submarine off the English coast and sank it with one shot from one of her guns.

"Beg Your Pardon."

Since the official proof reader of the Democrat-Forum has been taking a vacation, the remainder of the force have ceased to repeat the daily "Now I lay me" and changed it to "Please save us from a damage suit." Once in an account of a lovely wedding followed by a breakfast, it was made to read a "three course bouquet" was served; at a surprise dinner, the guests were spoken of as bringing baskets filled with refugee garments to serve dinner; a perfectly good single man was given a wife which he did not possess; children have been changed and put into families who only own angoras; transposed lines and misspelled names are in the "too numerous to mention" class; the dignified P. E. O. chapter was scheduled to meet with a couple of kiddies; in an accident account a corporation lawyer could not tell whether it was the man, harness, buggy or horse hurt. And the enumerations could run on forever ad finitum, but all the vain glory of making first-class mistakes has been taken out of us since reading an article in the April Cosmopolitan, where at a cruicial moment in a thrilling story, as the heroine in a plum-gorgeous gown and at a splendiforous dinner is overcome with emotion and must leave the table to hide her real feelings from her husband; it reads: "she hurriedly placed her napkin to her feet——"

N. B. The official proof readers vacation began last December and is still on.

WOULD STOP ALL LEAVES

Representative Frank Farris Against Leaves of Absence for Convicts.

Jefferson City, April 1.—While no prisoners who have been given leaves of absence from the Penitentiary have failed to return, Representative Farris said that he will recommend that the custom be abolished.

The recent investigation which has just closed has disclosed the custom of permitting prisoners to go home on brief leave to see sick parents or for other reasons as a reward for good behavior.

Morris Lewokwitz of Kansas City, a life term convict, who was allowed to go to El Paso, without guard to see his aged parents, returned to the prison recently, twenty-four hours ahead of time. There are two other prisoners absent on leave. A negro prisoner who killed two negroes and is now serving his second term, was allowed to go to the northern part of the state to see his daughter graduate. Prison officials say no prisoner has ever violated his leave.

Testimony given by the prison officials was that the car fare of the prisoners is paid out of their own savings or from general benefit funds.

Jefferson City, March 31—The House Special Calendar committee appointed by Speaker O'Fallon last week to push forward important bills has listed revenue bills for Wednesday and Thursday.

These include final passage of the soft drink tax and corporation franchise tax measures. The mortgage recording tax will be taken up Friday as well as salary increase bills which affect state revenues including salaries of circuit court judges and stenographers.

MARKET LETTER.

Kansas City Stock Yards, March 31.—The cattle market is strong today; hogs opened 10 to 15 cents higher and closed 25 cents higher with a new high record price for the year at $19.80, sheep 10 to 15 cents higher, lambs up to $19.75. The slump in fat steers and lambs last week seems to have been sufficient to bring out renewed demand, and the strength in today's market was with liberal receipts available for killers.

Today's Receipts.

About 13,000 cattle, 16,000 hogs, 8,000 sheep arrived today. This was fewer cattle and sheep than a week ago, but an increase in hogs. Receipts of cattle were from Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, California and Idaho.

Beef Cattle.

Trade in killing cattle opened slowly but cow buyers soon broke through with strong to 10 cents higher prices, and steer buyers raised their early bids which were lower, to fully a steady level. Trade in the better grades became fairly active and were cleaned up closely. Native steers sold up to $18.00, and pulp fed steers from both Colorado and Nebraska brought $15.25 to $17.25. Short fed Kansas and Missouri steers sold at $15.00 to $16.50. That class of steers is selling relatively better here than elsewhere. Idaho steers brought $15.25. In the opinion of buyers, prime finished steers, heavy weights would sell above $19.50. Yearling steers and heifers mixed sold up to $1.65, cows $14.75, heifers $15.25, and bulls $8.50 to $11.50. Veal calves brought $10.50 to $14.25.

Stockers and Feeders.

Western slope Colorado mountain feeders sold up to $15.50, Southwest Missouri stockers 690 lbs. $15.00, and the bulk of the other stock and feeding steers, which were from Kansas and Missouri brought $13.75 to $15.75. A few heavy half fat steers brought $16. The market was quoted firm. Stock cows and heifers and stock calves were in fairly active demand.

Hogs.

Though receipts were larger than on any Monday for some time past, the hog market was atcive, 10 to 15 cents higher at the outset and closed 25 cents higher. The top $19.80 was a new high record for the year and bulk of sales $19.15. to $19.70 was fully 50 cents above a week ago. Packers bought freely. There was an active demand for stock hogs at $19.50 to $18.50

Sheep and Lambs.

Prices in the sheep division ruled 10 to 15 cents higher. Most of the good lambs brought $19.50 to $19.75 and plain to fair lambs $18.50 to $19.40. Colorado remains the principal supply source for fed lambs. Killers are in need of some early spring lambs for the Easter trade. Fat sheep are scarce and few feeding lambs are offered.

Limited Suffrage for Missouri Women Seems Certain—Other Activities at the Capital.

(By Means Ray).

Jefferson City, Mo., April 1.—Votes for women on presidential electors now seems assured in Missouri. The McKnight bill passed the senate by a vote of 21 to 12 and now goes to the house where its passage is assured, a like measure having already been adopted there.

The fight for this in the senate has been a warm one and was the subject of much debate. The fight for it was led by Senators McKnight and McClintic.

The League of Nations debates here has caused this topic to be discussed a great deal during the past week. Senator Selden P. Spencer came down and made a forty minutes talk before a joint meeting of the house and senate and instead of expressing an opinion other than that he favored the right kind of a League of Nations remained on the top rail of the fence during the entire time.

Representative Frank H. Farris has engrossed his bill in the house requiring all property to be assessed at its full value and that it be taxed 60 per cent of the value. An amendment was tacked onto the measure providing that bankers must furnish assessors with information concerning deposits in the banks and requiring persons to open their deposit boxes on request of the assessor.

Republicans in the house still maintain their hostile attitude to the submission of the question of a new constitution to the people of the state. The claim is made by them that they will pass the measure in the house provided the Democrats will redistrict the senatorial districts of the state. It is known that this cannot be done at this session.

An agreement has been reached on the soft drink bill and a tax of one and one-half cents a gallon will be collected.

The income tax has been increased from one-fourth of one per cent to one-half of one per cent. Incomes taxed under the measure are $2,000 for single men and $4,000 for married men. Senator Bowker, chairman of the ways and means committee, had the bill in charge.

Lieutenant Governor Wallace Crossley has finished the business of the fuel administration and closed the offices.

The Democratic state committee at a meeting here declared that a club to be known as the Missouri State Democratic Club will be formed in every voting precinct of the state. Vice-presidents for each legislative district are now being selected and a statewide meeting will be held in St. Louis some time the last of May. Chairman Cummins of the Democratic national committee will attend the meeting.

The senate has engrossed a measure requiring county recorders to record free the discharges of all sailors, soldiers and marines.

The corporation franchise tax will be increased from 75 cents on the $1,000 to $1.00. Senator Bowker has this bill in charge. It is a part of Governor Gardner's revenue program. It was engrossed without amendment.

The house has engrossed a bill amending the inheritance tax law which provides that no tax be levied against bequests to religious, educational and charitable organizations.

The eight-hour working day for women was killed in the house by the adoption of an amendment for a nine-hour day and was adopted by a vote of 66 to 26. The bill was then placed on the informa.

The bone dry bill endorsed by the Anti-Saloon League was up in the senate, but re-referred to committee. The committee sent it out without recommendation. It is probable that the bill will be redrawn and some of the more drastic features removed. The measure carries the search and seizure clause.

The house has engrossed a bill requiring girls under 15 to secure consent for marriage from the circuit or probate court in addition to that of their parents. The age of majority for women is increased from 18 to 21 years in another measure.

The use of country school houses for public meetings will be available in the event of a measure which provides that they "shall" instead of "may," be used for such purposes passes.

A new disqualification for voters will be written into the statutes of Missouri, if the bill engrossed in the senate without opposition is enacted. Young's measure amends section 5800 of the Revised Statutes, dealing with the qualification of voters by adding to the disqualifications carried in the section conscientious objectors, persons guilty of espionage under the laws of the United States, persons who have evaded military or naval service in any branch of the army or navy, by fraud, perjury or absenting himself, or may have aided or abetted any other person to evade military or naval service in the war between the United tSates and Germany, declared in 1917. Conviction in any court of any of the charges mentioned shall be conclusive evidence against any person, but other evidence may be admitted to substantiate the charge.

IN REAL FIGHTING

JAMES R. FISHER WRITES INTERESTING LETTER TO HOMEFOLKS

HE WAS AT THE MEUSE

Gives Graphic Description of the Fighting Around Metz—Wants to Wear His Chevrons.

In a letter to his brother, John Fisher, Pvt. James R. (Jerry) Fisher tells of the fighting just before the armistice was signed, with an esecially good account of the fighting on the Meuse and the reparations for taking Metz. His letter follows:

Chatillon Sur Seine, March 2, 1919.—Dear John: In a week I'll be back on my way to Germany, passing thru Nancy, Toul, Metz, Luxemburg City and Treves. Will get to see the old battle line before long. We stand a good chance of going thru Verdun. If I can get a pass when I get back to the outfit, I am going to Rome. Some are getting furloughs there. Intend to see all of this country I can before coming home. If I make it around and back to the States and break even, I will consider myself lucky, nicht wahr?

Plenty of wine, beer, and whiskey or cognac, and good looking women in this country, but I haven't bothered any of them. Reports say we leave here or Germany in June. In that case I'll be wearing two gold chevrons and entitled to a silver one, providing Congress don't prohibit the use of them. If it does we'll have the rottenest deal we have had. If they take ours they ought to take General Pershing's and other D. S. C.'s away. For my part, I don't give a rap, but if they do there will be a sore bunch of boys from the A. E. F.

The parties responsible will not draw any votes or anything else. There is quite a few over here and their influence will amount to something when they get back. Most of them have been thru Hell and they have got the guts for anything. Just plain guts is what ended this war and nothing else. The Deutsch didn't have 'em.

If the war would have lasted a week longer we would have captured Metz or surrounded it. It is the most strongly fortified city in Europe excepting Gibralter. We had over a quarter of a million Americans ready for the attack, to open up the morning of the 12th of November. Besides several divisions in reserve and some French divisions to be in the attack. The night of the 10th we had practically broken thru the German lines on the Meuse river. I was with the first to cross the river.

'Twas a real foggy nite. About nine o'clock we got orders to get ready and cross the river. The Boche suspected something right away and opened up with a barrage. We crossed the river in boats, losing a good many men and leaving one 37 mm gun on the river bank. With the other two we pushed on, shells falling everywhere. Gas smelled pretty strong. The first thing we encountered on the other side was a pile of about fifteen Americans wounded and killed. They had probably bunched up waiting to reform. Quite a sight. Could tell many more instances far worse but will not. After crossing a German patrol ran into us which we captured. It was so dark you could see about ten feet. Next machine gun bullets began to sweep the ground and 88's firing point blank. The machine guns were soon captured and the 88's put out of whack. By that time the Germans had begun to move their artillery back. We marched at an angle of 45 degrees all nite and up until about 8 o'clock the next day, trying to get thru. At 11 o'clock we had started to move on and take the next woods but a runner got thru and we had orders to sit tight. Had more prisoners than we knew what to do with. Omer P. Fisher had about 25. In an hour or two we were smoking German cigars and building bonfires.

For a week before I had missed the majority of our aeroplanes and the Boche were constantly shooting at us from aeroplanes. They were probably concentrated for the big attack on Metz. Germany only had four divisions for reserve at that time, they had sunk so low. All the German soldiers we ever talked to say they had seven million men under arms tho. There is no end to hills and mountains in Germany and all would be hard to take.

Well, kid, enough for that. Could write a book; am wearing out a good

SETATE SPEEDS UP

UPPER HOUSE PASSES 25 BILLS IN ONE HOUR

MANY SOLDIERS' BILLS

Also Some Important Good Roads Legislation—Four Constitutional Amendments Were Passed.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 31.—Legislation was speeded up in the senate late today when twenty-five bills and four constitutional amendments were passed by that body within an hour's time. No debate was permitted, and many of the measures were passed without a dissenting vote.

A number of bills affecting soldiers were passed. One was that which enables soldiers to secure homes under such provisions as the federal government may make, and carries with it a constitutional amendment providing for a revolving bond issue of $1,000,000 to carry the law into effect. Another was the bill creating a state employment agency for the benefit of discharged soldiers, sailors and marines, and appropriating $10,000 for such an agency. A third bill appropriates $25,000 for medals for those honorably discharged from the service, from Missouri, and another appropriates $25,000 for a monument for Missouri soldiers killed in action.

Reorganize National Guard.

Reorganization of the Missouri National Guard, along lines approved by the war department, is provided for in a bill which also increases the salary of the adjutant general from $2,000 to $3,500.

Important good roads legislation passed by the senate includes the McCullough-Morgan joint highway bill, changing the existing law in many respects, and the constitutional amendment proposed by Senator McClintic for the submission of a $6,000,000 road bond issue to the people at the next general election. Another road bill by Senator McClintic, assessing one-fourth of the cost of roads against land within one-half mile of the highway, was passed unanimously.

The constitutional amendment proposed by Senator Harris for the creation of the offices of two additional judges of the supreme court, and the creation of three divisions of that tribunal, was also passed by the senate.

The proposed constitutional amendment fixing salaries of members of the legislature at $1,000 a year was passed.

Many Other New Laws.

Other laws passed by the senate include:

Those authorizing railroads to carry free of charge gifts to asylums and charity institutions; requiring the registering of fictitious names by business concerns; authorizing water companies to sell water at wholesale rates to cities increasing salaries of court stenographers; requiring garage owners to keep a record of all transient cars left in their care; and that providing refundment of such proportion of their licenses as dramshop keepers may have due them from cities and counties when federal prohibtion becomes aopreYETAOIN ETAOIN ETAO comes operative.

Among the bills passed also was one making the wild crab apple blossom the Missouri state flower.

Arthur A. Brewer of Maryville, court reporter for the fourth judicial district, is one of those who will benefit by the bill providing increased compensation for court stenographers.

SCHOOL TAX CARRIES

BERT COOPER IN LEAD

Present Superintendent of Schools Has Big Majority Over His Opponent in Maryville.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon, 379 votes were cast at the four wards in Maryville and it is estimated that not more than twenty-five of these votes were against the colored school building levy. Bert Cooper for county superintendent of schools is also running away from his opponent, J. W. Pierce, as it was estimated he had a lead of over 300 votes here.

The first ward had 92 votes cast and only four of these were against the colored school levy. Three votes were cast against the regular levy with 89 votes for it. Bert Cooper had 87 votes to Pierce's 13.

In the second ward, 94 votes had been cast and it was said that they were only five votes against the school levy. Cooper was also running far in the lead of his opponent in this ward.

Eighty-six votes had been cast in the third ward and probably not over ten votes were against the school levy. Cooper had 75 votes to Pierce's 18.

In the fourth ward, the school levy is being nearly unanimously carried as it is said there were only three votes against it at 2 o'clock. Bert Cooper was far ahead of his opponent.

FIRE AT THE THORP HOME

Fire Department Extinguished the Blaze with Chemicals Before Much Damage Was Done.

Fire at noon today causer about fifty dollars damage to the home of J. H. Thorp at 116 S. Buchanan street. The fire department was called and the fire extinguished by the use of chemicals.

The fire started when Mrs. Thorp put some apparently charred paper on the back porch. Wind fanned the sparks and the lattice work of the porch caught fire, the fire then spreading to the roof. The blaze was discovered before much headway had been gained.

NEW WAR THREATENS

ALLIES PREPARE FOR ACTION ON RUSSO-HUNGARIAN BOLSHEVISTS

TROOPS INTO HUNGARY

British and Italian Forces Have Occupied Pressburg—A Threat for Germany, Too.

Paris, April 1.—Allied troops will be sent into Roumania at once to meet the threats of Russo-Hungarian Bolshevism, it is reported here. A previous dispatch said Allied troops had already arrived at Constanza, Roumania. The threat of a new war is causing great uneasiness in French socialist circles.

Berlin, April 1.—Allied troops that will begin a campaign against the Hungarian Bolsheviks have arrived at Constanza, Roumania, according to Bucharest advices quoting Roumanian newsappers. British and Italian troops have occupied Pressburg, thirty miles southeast of Vienna.

This indicates that the entente are preparing for military action against the Hungarian Bolsheviks on a big scale.

London, April 1.—The Evening News states that it has reliable information that in case the German delegates refuse to sign the peace treaty, General Foch will order the armies along the Rhine to advance and that such action will mean that peace will be dictated by the Allies from Berlin.

TO SPEAK HERE ON SUNDAY

James T. Nichols of Des Moines, a Spectator at the Great Peace Conference at First Christian Church.

James T. Nichols of Des Moines, Ia., a world traveler and a spectator at the great peace conference meeting at Versailles on February 14, will speak at the First Christian church in this city next Sunday morning.

Mr. Nichols has had many unusual experiences. On his trip across when he was present at the peace conference, Mr. Nichols left Des Moines on January 18, arrived in London on February 2, traveled through the strike section there, through miles of war devastated land in Belgium and France and has a knowledge of the country gained by actual observation and experience of living in these regions. He was one of the two hundred spectators at the peace conference and can fully describe this great meeting where twenty-seven nations were represented.

Mr. Nicholas will speak at Maitland on Tuesday night April 8, and at Skidmore on Thursday evening, April 10. Both addresses will be made under the auspices of the Christian church.

TWENTY BELIEVE DROWNED.

Bristol, Penn., April 1.—Between ten and twenty persons are believed to have been drowned at the launching of a cargo carrier ship at the yards near here. Four bodies have been recovered. The disaster occurred when a part of the platform known at "patrol walk" surrounding the shipways collapsed under the weight of hundreds of workmen.

MAKE CLAIMS PUBLIC

WILSON'S DEMAND FOR SPEED LETS DOWN THE BARS

FRANCE WANTS SECURITY

Demands Some Other Guarantee Than League of Nations—Will Appeal to World.

Pairs, April 1.—The intimation that President Wilson may make public the views of the United States delegation on the question of reparations unless an agreement is speedily reached, has broken down the bars and today it was rumored that Premier Clemenceau might appeal to world justice in behalf of the French claims. According to the supporters of the rPemier, the public would sustain him.

In French official circles it is pointed out that France is ready to make any reasonable sacrifice for the Allies with whom she has fought but she insists on having guarantees in addition to the League of Nations. In this connection the French statesmen feel that the best guarantee would be a changed mentality on the part of the Germans themselves but thus far there has been little evidence of this result. As an index from well founded reports reaching Paris Count Karolyi, former head of the Hungarian government before the Bolsheviks got control, and Dr. Hantzau, present German foreign minister, plotted the Hungarian revolution with the object of testing the Entente's strength. There is further evidence in the fact that General Ludendorff was given, recently, an ovation in Berlin. The German liberal newspapers openly charged the ovation to Ludendorff was carefully staged.

Paris, April 1.—President Wilson told representatives of the associated powers today that he would place no blame on either Lloyd George, Clemenceau or Orlando for peace conference delays, but would let results speak for themselves, it was understood this afternoon. This statement was made in connection with Wilson's request for greater speed in completing the peace pact.

FINANCIAL MISSIONS MEET.

Paris, April 1.—The first meeting of the German financial mission and the Allied mission was held today. The question of assets and liabilities was taken up in detail.

PEACE TERMS TO TURKEY.

Constantinople, April 1.—The Turkish government was informed by the Allies that peace terms would be communicated shortly. The Turkish government was urged to take measures to prevent outbreaks when the terms are made public.

HAS A "FLIVVER" AEROPLANE

Italian Aviator Will Manufacture Tiny Airplanes to Sell for $1,250.

New York, April 1.—Capt. Ugo D'Annunzio, Italian aviator and son of Gabrielle D'Annunzio, the poet, announced here yesterday that he had designed and begun the manufacture of "flivver" aeroplanes, so small as to be capable of landing on almost any country road and designed to sell for $1,250.

The planes, Caut. D'Annunzio said, will have a wing spread of less than twenty feet, and will be guaranteed to fly for 2½ hours at an average speed of fifty miles an hour, carrying a passenger weighing not more than 165 pounds.

Capt. D'Annunzio, who has been in charge in America of the construction of the Italian Caproni planes, for army use, said his first "flivver" probably would take the air at the Atlantic City aerial contests on May 1.

THE VALUE OF GOOD ROADS.

In an argument for good roads some wise man, whose name has been lost, made use of the following:

"Roads rule the world—not kings, nor congresses, nor courts, nor constables, not ships nor soldiers. The road is the only royal line in democracy, the only legislature that never changes, the only court that never sleeps, the only army that never quits, the first aid to the redemption of any nation, the exodus from stagnation in any society, the call from savagry in any tribe, the high priest of prosperity, after the order of Melchisedec, without beginnings of days or end of life. The road is the umpire in every war, and when the new map is made, it simply pushes on its great campaign of help, hope, brotherhood, efficiency and peace."—From 1918 Year Book, Missouri State Board of Agriculture.

What Really Mattered.

He was a very small boy. Paddy was his dog, and Paddy was nearer to his heart than anything on earth. When Paddy met swift and hideous death on the turnpike road the boy's mother trembled to break the news. But it had to be, and when he came home from school she told him simply:

"Paddy has been run over and killed."

He took it very quietly and there was nothing more said about it until five minutes after he had gone to bed there echoed through the house a shrill and sudden lamentation. His mother rushed upstairs with solicitude and pity.

"Nurse says," he sobbed, "that Paddy has been run over and killed."

"But, dear, I told you that at dinner, and you didn't seem to be troubled at all."

"No; but—but I didn't know you said Paddy, I—I thought you said daddy!"

MOHAWKS and Rocky Roads

There's a rocky road or a bumpy road, or a bad strip of roadway of some sort between you and your market. It's punishing your tires—putting terrific strain upon them.

Many tires which might give good service under ordinary conditions won't stand up long under their abuse.

The strain may not show on the roads. For those bumps and strains don't hurt the rubber. They pound away at the fabric sometimes breaking one or two plies of fabric underneath. The break may not show for weeks, but it is there. It spreads. Other plies give away. Suddenly you have a blow-out and you wonder why. Mohawk tires don't give away even under the most severe strain. Most sizes have one more ply to fabric than other makers think it necessary to use. And this extra ply makes all the difference in the world in the strength of the tire.

Of course, Mohawks would give good mileage without this extra ply if they were always used on smooth roads and pavements.

But the Mohawk Company believes that Mohawk users don't care to pick and choose their roads. They want to go where they want, when they want to.

Because of this we haven't skimped on a single feature. We pay more money for our rubber and fabric than most makers so that we can secure the best.

We hire the most experienced workmen we can find and give them plenty of time to put the best they know into every tire.

There is nothing mysterious or secret about such methods. Just a reasonable logical policy of building honest tires so that every tire produced will give the buyer a good big value in mileage.

Isn't that the sort of a tire that appeals to you?

RED CROSS NOTES

The Red Cross clothing campaign in Maryville and Polk township will continue through this week, with hopes of getting the quota of 1000 pounds. Bring your clothing to the Red Cross rooms on West Third street or call and some one will call for them.

The Boy Scouts of Maryville were very kind and assisted Saturday in gathering up the clothing. If any one has a car to help get this clothing together, we will be very thankful for the use of it.

To Care For the Far East.

Nine hospitals with a total staff of fifty Red Cross nurses are being organized in northern Serbia by the American Red Cross Mission to the Balkans. In addition to this the Mission is sending thirteen nurses to Montenegro, while another unit of ten nurses is being organized for Greece. In all the activities there will be steps taken to train native women as nurses.

Send Rubber Clothes.

In previous campaigns for the collection of clothing, no rubber clothing was allowed to be sent. There is no longer the danger of this falling into the hands of the enemy, so in the present collection be sure to send the rubber blankets and the raincoats that you no longer need.

Ship all clothing collected in Campaign by FREIGHT only, charges collect, to American Red Cross, Baltic Terminal, New York Dock Company, Brooklyn, New York.

DO NOT SHIP BY EXPRESS. g
DO NOT SHIP TO ST. LOUIS.

A Souvenir of Surgical Dressings.

The Bureau of Production has on hand a number of illustrated pamphlets on surgical dressings. This pamphlet gives not only instructions in regard to the making of surgical dressings, but has in it much information in regard to the Red Cross and its various activities. The pamphlet is most attractively printed and is profusely illustrated. Every woman who has been interested in the making or surgical dressings will find this pamphlet an interesting souvenir of her war service. They can be obtained by writing to the Bureau of Production.

Red Cross Work That Still Goes On.

I was an experiment. I was the first "lay" woman, so to speak—that is, the first woman other than a nurse of a nurse's aid—sent by the Red Cross into a United States base hospital in France. It was Base Hospital 101 at St. Nazaire.

What I was to do when I got there no one, least of all myself, had any idea. It was evident there was a great deal which might be done to make the boys happier, and more contented. What is was and how to do it was my business to find out, and no one ever had a more interesting job. If I could not find out it was understood I was to get 'out. Before I had been there two months, the Red Cross sent me an assistant. Then I kenw I was a successful experiment. Soon after this they gave us a title. We became Red Cross "searchers."

For the first few days after I arrived at St. Nazaire I went around the hospital with the Chaplain. He took me from ward to ward, telling the boys what I had come for, and letting me give them their papers and magazines, so that I might get in touch with them. That took the strangeness off a little; but even so, the first morning I went around alone was something of an ordeal. The boys had not decided whether they wanted me. They received me in silence, and followed me about curiously with their eyes. Within a week they were greeting me with shouts "Here she comes! Here she is!" the minute I appeared at the door. The Red Cross had scored again.

The work grew of itself without much planning on my part. I was there to do whatever the boys wanted. And if I didn't know what it was, they did, and told me. Of course, after a while I began to learn. The request of one boy taught me the needs of many. For instance, one day I found a boy sitting on the edge of his bed, jumping up and down like an excited child.

"What are you trying to do?" I asked. "Get some exercice," he answered. "I am tired of sitting still. If I only had a cane I could get out of this and walk, but thre is only one pair of crutches in the ward."

When said I would get him a cane, there was a perfect chorus of: "Get me one too." After that we always had them on hand and to lend; sometimes we had as many as 150 out at a time. The boys were usually able to bring them back before they left. It was fine to see them come into our office with them—they looked so proud and happy. "Here's my cane," each would say. "I don't need it any more," and then would march off with a broad grin.

The wants they developed were legion. They reminded me of a passage in Henry V.

Upon the King—let us our lives, our souls,
Our debts, our careful wives,
Our children and our sins, lay on the King!—the Red Cross being the King.

WOMAN SAVED MUCH SUFFERING

By taking Friend's Advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

West Plains, Mo.—"I was all run down in health, had indigestion and terrible cramps every month so I was unable to do anything. I had tried every doctor in West Plains, also every remedy I could think of, without relief. One day when I was suffering greatly a friend was at my house and said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' So I did, and through it, I found relief from my suffering and I really believe it saved my life. It does not seem as though I can say enough in praise of this wonderful medicine for the health it has brought me."—Miss CORA LEE HALL, West Plains, Mo.

Perhaps it may seem an extravagant statement to say that this great remedy saved a life; but women like Mrs. Hall, to whom it has brought health, appreciate the danger and suffering they have escaped too well to doubt it! All who suffer should try it. Why risk life and health without it?

Haines
The Store Quality and Low Prices Built.

Health and beauty of surroundings as well as safety from fire demand that at this time of the year the winter's accumulation of waste, rubbish and dirt be cleaned up and removed from all premises.

Rubbish heaps are notorious fire breeders. Fires start in them and are fed by them. Old packing cases, papers, paper boxes, sweepings and other refuse in basements and attics frequently are the cause of fire gaining immediate headway resulting in destruction of property and danger to life. Merchants often endanger valuable stocks of merchandise and buildings by permitting rubbish to accumulate in base ments and back yards.

Nothing speaks so well for a community as clean, well kept homes, clean streets, alleys, yards and lots, while the opposite conditions give a place a delapidated appearance and are a sad reflection on the inhabitants.

In order to bring about a concerted effort all over the state for fire prevention, I recommend that the week of April 7 to April 12 be designated as clean-up week in the State of Missouri and urge that every resident of Missouri, whether he be a private citizen or public official, devote whatever time that is necessary to the work of cleaning up streets, alleys, back yards, yards about farm houses and barns, basements and attics of all buildings, public or private, and removing there from every possible cause of fire.

NOW FOR A CLEAN-UP WEEK

State Insurance Department Urges Every Resident to Devote Time Necessary to Cleaning up Premise

Alfred L. Harty, superintendent of the insurance department of the State of Missouri, has requested that the week of April 7 to 12 be designated as clean-up week in the state. In his letter to the city authorities, he writes:

Over ten million dollars worth of Missouri property was destroyed by fire during the past year. When the cost of maintaining fire departments and other fire fighting equipment is added to this sum the total cost to the people of Missouri on account of fire was well over twelve million dollars or over one million dollars per month.

Now that the war is over we should not slacken our efforts for the conservation of resources. We should rather use every energy toward the elimination of all waste that conditions may speedily reach a normal basis.

A considerable portion of this appall ing fire loss is directly chargeable to conditions that could and should be remedied.

83, BUT TAKES 900 MILE HIKE

J. A. Z. Turner Also Walks Twenty Miles a Day Over Chicago Streets Selling Newspapers.

Chicago, Mar. 29.—James Alexander Zane Turner, just eighty-three, who hikes twenty miles a day over Chicago streets delivering periodicals, thinks nothing of a little jaunt like 900 miles from North Carolina to Chicago during vacation. In fact, its nothing more than "a right smart airing," according to Turner.

Turner's step today at eighty-three has more "pep" and go in it than the average youth of twenty-one displays on his walk to and from the street cars.

"Oh, yes," said Turner, "I do manag to get a little exercise everyday. I make five etrips a day in the 'loop district,' covering perhaps twenty miles—but I like the long hikes the best."

"What do you mean by long walks?" queried the reporter, puffing after climbing two flights of stairs to interview Turner.

"Oh, like that little airing last summer from North Carolina. I may take another this summer, as that gold mine I played with a bit in North Carolina has a surprise in her and I am going to dig it out. You watch and see if I don't."

Freigther Fired First Shot.

The credit for firing the first shot of the war betwenn the United States and Germany is given to the freight steamer U. S. S. Mongolia of the American line, when April 19, 1917, it encountered a German submarine off the English coast and sank it with one shot from one of her guns.

"Beg Your Pardon."

Since the official proof reader of the Democrat-Forum has been taking a vacation, the remainder of the force have ceased to repeat the daily "Now I lay me" and changed it to "Please save us from a damage suit." Once in an account of a lovely wedding followed by a breakfast, it was made to read a "three course bouquet" was served; at a surprise dinner, the guests were spoken of as bringing baskets filled with refugee garments to serve dinner; a perfectly good single man was given a wife which he did not possess; children have been changed and put into families who only own angoras; transposed lines and misspelled names are in the "too numerous to mention" class; the dignified P. E. O. chapter was scheduled to meet with a couple of kiddies; in an accident account a corporation lawyer could not tell whether it was the man, harness, buggy or horse hurt. And the enumerations could run on forever ad finitum, but all the vain glory of making first-class mistakes has been taken out of us since reading an article in the April Cosmopolitan, where at a cruicial moment in a thrilling story, as the heroine in a plum-gorgeous gown and at a splendiforous dinner is overcome with emotion and must leave the table to hide her real feelings from her husband; it reads: "she hurriedly placed her napkin to her feet——"

N. B. The official proof readers vacation began last December and is still on.

WOULD STOP ALL LEAVES

Representative Frank Farris Against Leaves of Absence for Convicts.

Jefferson City, April 1.—While no prisoners who have been given leaves of absence from the Penitentiary have failed to return, Representative Farris said that he will recommend that the custom be abolished.

The recent investigation which has just closed has disclosed the custom of permitting prisoners to go home on brief leave to see sick parents or for other reasons as a reward for good behavior.

Morris Lewokwitz of Kansas City, a life term convict, who was allowed to go to El Paso, without guard to see his aged parents, returned to the prison recently, twenty-four hours ahead of time. There are two other prisoners absent on leave. A negro prisoner who killed two negroes and is now serving his second term, was allowed to go to the northern part of the state to see his daughter graduate. Prison officials say no prisoner has ever violated his leave.

Testimony given by the prison officials was that the car fare of the prisoners is paid out of their own savings or from general benefit funds.

Jefferson City, March 31—The House Special Calendar committee appointed by Speaker O'Fallon last week to push forward important bills has listed revenue bills for Wednesday and Thursday.

These include final passage of the soft drink tax and corporation franchise tax measures. The mortgage recording tax will be taken up Friday as well as salary increase bills which affect state revenues including salaries of circuit court judges and stenographers.

MARKET LETTER.

Kansas City Stock Yards, March 31.—The cattle market is strong today; hogs opened 10 to 15 cents higher and closed 25 cents higher with a new high record price for the year at $19.80, sheep 10 to 15 cents higher, lambs up to $19.75. The slump in fat steers and lambs last week seems to have been sufficient to bring out renewed demand, and the strength in today's market was with liberal receipts available for killers.

Today's Receipts.

About 13,000 cattle, 16,000 hogs, 8,000 sheep arrived today. This was fewer cattle and sheep than a week ago, but an increase in hogs. Receipts of cattle were from Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, California and Idaho.

Beef Cattle.

Trade in killing cattle opened slowly but cow buyers soon broke through with strong to 10 cents higher prices, and steer buyers raised their early bids which were lower, to fully a steady level. Trade in the better grades became fairly active and were cleaned up closely. Native steers sold up to $18.00, and pulp fed steers from both Colorado and Nebraska brought $15.25 to $17.25. Short fed Kansas and Missouri steers sold at $15.00 to $16.50. That class of steers is selling relatively better here than elsewhere. Idaho steers brought $15.25. In the opinion of buyers, prime finished steers, heavy weights would sell above $19.50. Yearling steers and heifers mixed sold up to $1.65, cows $14.75, heifers $15.25, and bulls $8.50 to $11.50. Veal calves brought $10.50 to $14.25.

Stockers and Feeders.

Western slope Colorado mountain feeders sold up to $15.50, Southwest Missouri stockers 690 lbs. $15.00, and the bulk of the other stock and feeding steers, which were from Kansas and Missouri brought $13.75 to $15.75. A few heavy half fat steers brought $16. The market was quoted firm. Stock cows and heifers and stock calves were in fairly active demand.

Hogs.

Though receipts were larger than on any Monday for some time past, the hog market was atcive, 10 to 15 cents higher at the outset and closed 25 cents higher. The top $19.80 was a new high record for the year and bulk of sales $19.15. to $19.70 was fully 50 cents above a week ago. Packers bought freely. There was an active demand for stock hogs at $19.50 to $18.50

Sheep and Lambs.

Prices in the sheep division ruled 10 to 15 cents higher. Most of the good lambs brought $19.50 to $19.75 and plain to fair lambs $18.50 to $19.40. Colorado remains the principal supply source for fed lambs. Killers are in need of some early spring lambs for the Easter trade. Fat sheep are scarce and few feeding lambs are offered.
